

Fort HealthCare Business Health Improves Website Tools

Over the past eighteen years, Fort HealthCare Business/Corporate Health Services has developed a number of corporate partnerships in our community. By offering services that range from pre-employment physical exams to on-site tobacco cessation courses to bilingual communication services, Corporate Health has been able to meet a number of health related needs for numerous employers. As we look to further develop those relationships and to initiate new ones, we have developed a page on the www.FortHealthCare.com website that can be used as a resource to the business community – not only to describe the depth and breadth of our offerings but to keep our corporate community informed of timely and critical health issues facing employers.

Please visit the Fort HealthCare website at www.FortHealthCare.com and find a series of tabs across the homepage. The salmon colored tab is labeled “For Employers” and under that tab is a drop down menu of topics. There are descriptions of the services we offer including:

- 🔗 Pre-employment physical exams and screenings
- 🔗 Injury prevention and treatment
- 🔗 Customized wellness programs and presentations
- 🔗 On-site tobacco cessation
- 🔗 Risk assessments
- 🔗 Drug, alcohol and behavioral health services
- 🔗 CPR/first aid training
- 🔗 Bilingual communication services

In addition, a section has been added entitled “Health News for Employers”. Health stories and information will be posted here to keep our business partners informed of the latest health issues facing employers.

The Fort HealthCare Business Health Department invites our business community to browse our website and let us know if there is any new or additional way we can help to improve the “health” of your business.
