Overview:

Fort HealthCare (FHC) is an integrated hospital and health system that attracts patients throughout southeastern Wisconsin. For over 75 years, FHC has worked hard to provide exceptional healthcare to the people of Jefferson County and the surrounding communities. FHC recognizes that the future of healthcare is changing and that good health is all about prevention. Since 2010, FHC’s Mission and Vision has been centered on the goal of creating the healthiest community in Wisconsin. FHC believes that partnerships are the foundation for community success, and since 2012 FHC has successfully supported seven active Health Community Coalitions throughout the Greater Jefferson County area.

Each of the Healthy Community Coalitions currently support at least one school garden in the greater Jefferson County area. Eat Here Eat Well’s mission is to connect local schools and farms to improve student learning, health and the economy for the people in Jefferson County. The main goals of the AmeriCorps Farm to School members will be to support the coalitions’ efforts to build and/or maintain the school gardens, work closely with school administrators, foodservice supervisors and teachers to incorporate local foods into the school meal programs, and to implement more nutrition and environmental education for elementary aged children.

FHC is seeking candidates to fill two (2) 50% time AmeriCorps Farm to School members (1- Community Outreach Coordinator and 1-Nutrition Educator). These two members will work collaboratively throughout the year to ensure goals are met and progress continues for statewide farm to school efforts. Each position is a one-year appointment with a 900-hour commitment (an average of 20 hours/week). The position will begin August 15, 2018 and end August 14, 2019. Members will be under contract with the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction’s state-wide Farm to School AmeriCorps program and will be under direct supervision of staff within the Community Health & Wellness Department at FHC.

FHC AmeriCorps members will be based out of offices at Fort Memorial Hospital 611 E Sherman Ave, Fort Atkinson, WI 53538 and will report directly to the Community Health Program Coordinator. Work hours will fall primarily between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday – Friday. Occasional weekend and evening hours may be required. FHC’s school districts of focus for farm to school programming within the greater Jefferson County area include Cambridge, Fort Atkinson, Jefferson, Johnson Creek, Lake Mills and Whitewater.

FHC AmeriCorps members will work primarily with elementary aged students; as well as teachers, farmers, food service personnel, parents and a wide range of community partners within each Healthy Community Coalition. Members are also a part of a larger network of WI Farm to School AmeriCorps members who implement farm to school programs at sites around Wisconsin.

The FHC AmeriCorps Farm to School Nutrition Educator will primarily focus on education within the schools and the classroom by helping teachers and school food service directors to develop and implement nutrition programs that will educate children about the benefits of making healthy eating choices. This may include things such as nutrition education lessons within current curricula and school garden programs, Harvest of the Month tastings, cooking in the classroom programs or field trips to farms, and work with schools to help implement wellness programs. They will also act as a co-leader for the Eat Here Eat Well coalition, including being responsible for recruiting and mobilizing coalition members, managing regular communications (monthly email newsletters, social media, etc.) and helping to organize bi-annual meetings for coalition members.

The FHC AmeriCorps Farm to School Community Outreach Coordinator will serve as the main liaison between the schools and the Healthy Community Coalitions. They will educate food service directors about sourcing local, healthy foods for the school districts they serve and will create an action plan laying out the steps necessary to procure local food into their programs. They will also act as a co-leader for the Eat Here Eat Well coalition, including being responsible for recruiting and mobilizing coalition members, managing regular communications (monthly email newsletters, social media, etc.) and helping to organize bi-annual meetings for coalition members.

Each of the FHC AmeriCorps Members will also be required to share information with other Members to create a statewide network; and provide data and information to be used in a best practices guide that can be used by other schools. Members will also help develop strategies and build community stakeholders to make the program sustainable; collaborate on how best to bring healthy foods into schools; collect data and track program performance using measures such as the amount of local food purchased; attend training to support their roles; coordinate and facilitate local advisory committee meetings; and recruit and manage local volunteers.
